"Hey Rachael"
by Gregg Standridge and Terry Ware

Hey, Rachael I've been thinkin' 'bout you
The way you used to sparkle and shine
Turnin' every head as you went by Baby, you looked so fine
Glidin' down Main Street
You never missed a beat
I could count on you, Rachael, every night

Rachael, you were my two-tone dream
The one who made my motor whine
Kickin' up dust on a county road
And doin' it in four-four time
Turnin' off the headlights
Drivin' by the moonlight
Fifteen-twenty blastin' on the radio

(Chorus)
I could always lose my blues
When I jammed that pedal down
But that magic I once knew
Is a mystery to me now

Do-do-do-do-do-do….do-do-do-do
Do-do-do-do-do-do….do-do-do-do

Hey, Rachael it's been a long time
Since we took that midnight ride
That old, dusty road's in the middle of town
And Main Street has up and died
Drivin' that road at night
The moon is not as bright
And I never listen to the radio

Chorus

Do-do-do-do-do-do….do-do-do-do
Do-do-do-do-do-do….do-do-do-do
